Not Short Here—

Reports in the Portland papers that Andrew Dalgity was short in his accounts with the Astoria lodge of Foresters were, of course, incorrect. Mr. Dalgity, while a member of the local Foresters, has a clear record in his home lodge, so members say. He never was financial secretary, nor ever had the handling of any money here.

Superintendent Clark's report of the public schools for the month of April shows that the total number of pupils in attendance was 1336; the total number on the register since the beginning of the year is 1557. The average daily attendance was 1317.2; the per cent of attendance being 97.3. Nineteen parents visited the schools, and there were two visits by members of the board. County Court—

The court will remain in session today also, when the question of the county road improvements will be discussed and passed upon.

Stewards Are Sick—

Charles Anderson, night steward at St. Mary's hospital, is laid up with a severe attack of the grip and is having quite a hard time of it. Tom Brown, the day man, is also in bed with la grippe. All over the city there are complaints of colds and la grippe, and it looks as if the latter afflictions is epidemic, so prevalent is it.

Back To Business—

The Kim Lee Company started up its lottery again yesterday, after a temporary suspension that lasted for several weeks. Some one broke the bank recently by making a big winning and the company had to close up until it could recover from the blow. The six companies are now doing their daily and nightly gambling business.

Notified By Mail—

Judge Anderson, as clerk of the police commission, yesterday addressed a letter to Martin Foard, at Bucoda, Wash., telling him of the charges preferred by the city attorney against the police officers and of the hearing next Tuesday night. Mr. Foard has not attended a meeting of the commission since the early part of January.

Died of Consumption—

John Siemala died in this city yesterday of tubercular troubles. He was a native of Finland, 45 years of age, was not married and had been a fisherman on the Columbia. For a time he worked in the mines in Alaska, and perhaps became afflicted with the disease that killed him there. He was a member of the Finnish Brotherhood, and also of the Redmen. The burial will be Sunday.

A Very Sick Man—

The news was brought down on the steamer Lurline last evening, from Cathlamet, that Ole Pedersen, of that place, is very ill, with pulmonary troubles, and his family is considerably alarmed about him. Mr. Pedersen is a well known and highly respected citizen of that community, and was formerly connected with the Columbia Trading Company.

The Hoist Line Broke—

While loading one of two fine can-making machines on the good ship St. Nicholas yesterday morning, the hoisting line broke and the heavy machine came back to the dock with a crash, but fortunately it was built so stoutly as to save it from any great damage, and it was later loaded and stored.

Water Developed—

The proprietors of Columbia Beach, just north of Gearhart Park, have started boring for water, artesian if possible, and yesterday at a depth of 114 feet, struck a fine vein of pure water, clear and cold, just where the sand ran out and a heavy gravel bed began. The water will be subjected to rigid analysis, and the boring will be continued.

Citizenship Papers—

Ole Stone made application for his second papers yesterday, and the date of his hearing was set for September 21. Declaration of intention to become citizens were filed yesterday by Martin Hansen Solter, native of Norway; William Charles Steer, native of England; Petter Jaakola, native of Finland and Hugh Battarbee, native of England, the latter now a farmer out on the Lewis and Clark.

Departs For Old Sweden—

H. P. Ahlberg, one of the prominent citizens of the Gray's River country, was in the city yesterday, on a business trip. Mr. Ahlberg intends to leave on next Tuesday, for his old home in Sweden, where he has not been for 38 years, 34 of which have been spent in the Gray's River country, and from which he has foregathered a handsome competency, a fine farm home and a wholesome reputation for good citizenship. He will be gone until October, and has left his farm in good hands under lease for a year. Mrs. Ahlberg and her family, will remain on the farm.

Sunday School Convention—

The closing session of the convention was held last evening at the Presbyterian church. The convention was exceedingly interesting throughout. Every Sunday school in the county reports marked increase during the year. There were 11 clergymen in attendance besides delegates from Alderbrook, Seaside, Warrenton and Hammond. The officers chosen for the ensuing year are President, Mrs. J. E. Ferguson; vice-president, Miss Townsend of Warrenton; secretary, Alema Nyland; treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Eakin. The presence of Chas. A. Phipps, state field worker, Dr. J. V. Milligan, state synodical Sunday school missionary, Tracy B. Griswold the Sunday school worker from Portland, added much to the interest of the sessions. The state convention will be held in Salem, April 28, 29 and 30.

Back From California—

County Commissioner Fred W. Moore, of Seaside, returned from his trip to Southern California Monday and was in attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the county court yesterday. Mrs. Moore and their son accompanied Mr. Moore. They went to Riverside for a time, and later returned to Los Angeles and other points near the coast. Mr. Moore says that while they were there the weather was excellent, there being only a few days of rain, and they enjoyed the trip very much.

Was Terribly Injured—

Hans Haum, an employee of the Olson logging camp on Deep River, was injured in a terrible manner while at work there Tuesday. He was struck in the face by the cable as it was dragging a log out of the woods, and so forcible was the blow that he fell as if dead. He was brought over to this city at a late hour Tuesday night. Dr. Pilkington was called in to treat the injured man and found that his jaw was broken in several places and it was necessary to take out nine teeth. While in bad shape Haum's condition is thought to be not very serious.

Arrested For Battery—

Joe Strauss will be tried in justice court this morning on a charge of striking A. Jaloff. The trouble is over some monetary difficulty, in which Strauss is said to have guaranteed the payment of a $50 bill of goods and which he was compelled to make good on. Strauss' seal ring cut Jaloff's face. It is understood that Strauss was willing to plead guilty yesterday, though there are two boys, it is said, who aver that Jaloff struck first, while a man who witnessed the trouble avers that Jaloff did not attempt to strike at all. The case will be prosecuted by the assistant district attorney, Mr. Brownell, who will be aided by Mr. Jaloff's lawyer, Frank Spittle.

School Site—

While it is said that all of the members of the school board are not actively in favor of the construction of a school building on the site owned by the city near Jerome and Fifteenth streets nevertheless it is deemed probable that the new high school building, when built, will be put up there. The site is a commanding one, on presumably solid ground, and comparatively easy of access. At the present time the work of improving Jerome avenue is going on, and soon it will be a handsome thoroughfare for several blocks along there. The question of the site will probably also be determined by the taxpayers at a special meeting. The board has sent away for various school plans.

The Graft Charges—

Officer Thomas Linville, who is one of the men charged with graft, the specific instance alleged being that he took $10 from the "hop head" Ricketts a year or two ago, cheerfully admits that he did take the money. "Officer Thompson and I took Ricketts out of the Chinese joint, where he was stupid from the drug," says Mr. Linville. "We placed him under arrest and told him that he could go to jail or, if he could put up $10 as bonds, he need not show up until police court time. He had the money and either Officer Thompson or I took the money. And the records at the police station will show that Officer Thompson put up the bail money, and that when Ricketts failed to show up in court the next day the judge duly declared the $10 forfeited. That's what became of the $10." The police records corroborate the officer's statement, which of course apparently disposes of the charge. At that time officers were permitted to take bail in such cases away from the police station. Thus it would appear as if this charge against Linville is founded upon a misunderstanding of the facts of the case.
